

GlobalNR

global network for research

Established in 1989, EuroNet was a multi-country consortium of professional European and American research companies, working to the same standards and ideals.

In 2006 we are acting on a more and more global level -

EuroNet is now GlobalNR

- ▶ Good news, the goal remains the same.
To work for our clients globally
Together with our network of partners
All working to the same high standards and ideals

GlobalNR works according to these principles

all members are supportive of each other and their clients, collaborating together on international studies exchanging experience and techniques sharing responsibility and knowledge delivering full service qualitative and quantitative research combining local experience and know how across a truly global network one strong experienced agency for international research.

forms one of the leading research networks of the world.
